An Appropriation Asked for a Samoa Coaling Station.

ITS PRESENT IMPORTANCE.

Two letters on the Subject Written by Secretary Whitney to the Chairman of the House Navai Committee—Other Dispatches Urom the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Secretary Whitney a few days ago wrote to Representative Herbert, charman of the house naval committee urging an appropriation for the purchase of a coaling station in the port of Pazo Pazo, Samoa where at present our government leases the land needed for the station. In this letter the secretary said:

"Owing, however, to limited authority of the deput ment, it has been unable to make or to on or into any agreement of lease for a site good is youd a year. The important interests subscried by this privilege should not be at the a ward of a tenure so slight as a lease from year to year, and I request that the department be authorized to pur-chase the necessary land for a coaling station, and be authorized to erect a wharf and lighters for handling coal, and a small building for a keeper. For these purposes an ap propriation of $100,000 is estimated to be sufficient, and I recommend that such sum

Yesterday the secretary addressed another letter to Mr. Herbert on the same subject, in which he adds: "In addition to what has already been said, I desire to call your attention to the importance of this appropriation at the tube wun the whole question of our relations with this group of islands and the other treaty powers have been referred by the president to congress for its consideration and notion. In view of the responsibility thrown upon naval officers in dealing with these questions, the department has heretofore askeltor the announcement of a definite Natural policy regarding this group of islands for its information, and guidance, and it is describle that all reasonable provision should be made for the future necessities of commerce, and of the navy in that locality, in view of the importance which the question now as-umes."

DECIDED THE FIRST BALLOT

Ma Receives the Municed and Seven . Votes Out of the One Hundred and Forty-One Cast.

St. Paul, Minu. Jan. 23 -There was an entirely different feeling prevalent relative to the senatorial question when the house met at 10 o'clock. The report of the investigation committee relating to the charge of] bribery was read, and it exonerated Gen Washburn from any attempt to bothe members on the night of the Republican caneus last week. After listening to the report the house took a formal ballot for senator and Gen. Washburn received eighty votes out of the one hundred cast.

An adjournment was taken until 12 o'clock noon, at which hour the house and senate amembled in joint session to take the deciding ballot. The voting was proceeded with as soon as the organization was effected, and as senators and representatives announced their votes, several of them made speeches relative to the investigation, which was car ried on without any foundation for the rumors of bribery charges.

The result of the ballot was as follows: W. D. Washburn, 107; Durant, 20, Start, 9; Wilson, 2; Clapp. 1; Bowen, 1; Judge Rea. I. Whole number of votes cast, 141; necesmary to a choice, 71. Gen. Washburn formally declared elected as United States constor to succeed Senster Sabin.

STORY OF A TRAVELING MAN

Startled by Uncanny Sounds-Strange Tappings on the Hend of the Bed and Explosions in the Grate.

Sr. Louis, Jan. 24.—The tragely enacted on April 5, 1885, in room 144 of the Southern hotel is revived by the strange experience of the guests who have recently occupied the spartment. It was in room 144 that Maxwell chloroformed. Freller to death, robbed the remains and then packed them in a trunk. The room was not occupied for many months afterward, and such a horror was developed in the traveling public's mind that the hotel found it impossible to utilize the room, and in order to remove the ghastly dread of "144" the number was changed to "IEL" The nerves of several drummers were first tested, and only two exhibited signs of a collapse the next morning. The experience of one guest was told Monday. The gentleman is a prominent commercial The Investigation Committee Exonerates, traveler, of well-halanced mind, sound intel-Him from the Charge of Bribers, and lect and good, broad common sease. THE SOUTHERN POTEL.

"I knew nothing at all about the room when I took it in fact, the Maxwell-Preller incident had wholly escaped me. I went to bed at my usual hour, and was awakened with a start by hearing a strange tapping against the head of the hed. Tup, tap, tap, was the order in which they came, one disconnected tap and then two in quick succession. I was aroused in an instant, but heard nothing more, and concluded the tapping was caused by the cracking of the glue. same tapping occurred several other times during the night, but I dismissed it on the comfortable theory I have just mentioned. The next evening I notice withat the drawers of the hareau would always open however invariably open again as though forced out by some unseen agency. Still I was not alarmed.

"The most startling occurrence and the one which finally decided me to leave the room came on the third night, I had noticed that the chambermand had entirely cleared the hearth of debris, and not so much as a scrap of paper was left in it. I was thrown from deep slumber into absolute wakefulness about 1 o'clock by an explosion on the hearth that sounded like the explusion of a big tire eracker. I was scared, you can bet. A second explosion, a little louder followed, and then came a third, which capped the climax. It was terribly violent, and the detonation was fearful. I arose, dressed, detonation was fearful lighted the gas, and looked at the hearth. It was completely filled with a slaty substance that looked like ore of some kind, and one of the large cubes that made up the mass was torn from the brickwork or tiling. Pieces of slate were thrown across the room. I went down stairs and told the night clerk to come right up to the room and see what had happened. He refused with a sickly smile. "I returned to the room, passed a sleeples night and charged inv room the next day. then learned from a friend the history of the room and one or two tlungs that hitherto had been mexplicable to me then became painfully clear. I noticed the bell boys would get out of the room as quickly as they could, not waiting for the occasional tip which I held to them, nor could I get an answer when I rang the bell after 10 o'clock I found out that at that hour the lights in the hall were turned out and the bell boys would not go through the cornder after that time at any price. I give these facts for what they are worth, without comment or explanation. I am not a spiritualist or a behaver in their doctrains. I was also dutely sober, too, as I seldom take a drink "

The Advance of the Best Interests of the Home-The Enemy of the Saloan. The Friend of American Labor. The Favorite Newspaper of People of Refined Tastes Everywhere.

The New York MAIL AND EXPRESS, the favorite American newspaper of many people of intelligent and onitivated tastes, has recent y made some noteworthy improvements, that terially increasing its general excellence. It is in the broadest sense most carefully edited, and adapted to the wants and tastes of intelligent readers throughout the entire country-North, Bouth, East and West. It is a thoroughly clean paper, freefrom the corrupting, sensational and demoral izing trash, miscalled news, which dedles the pages of too many city papers.

A National Newspaper,

OUR POLITICS.

We believe the Republican party to be the true instrument of the POLITICAL PROG-R他SS of the American people; and holding that the honest enforcement of its principles is the best guarantee of the national walfare, we shall support them with all our might; but we shall always treat opposing parties with coneideration and fair play.

AGAINST THE SALOON.

The MAIL AND EXPRESS is the recognized National organ of the great Anti-Saloon Republican movement. It believes that the inquor traffic as it exists to-day in the United States is the enemy of society, a fruitful source of corruption in politics, the ally of onareny, a school of crime, and, with its avowed purpose of socking to corruptly control elections and legislation, is a menace to the public welfare and deserves the condemnation of all good men.

THINGS THAT EVERY WOMAN WANTS TO KNOW.

Novelties in Walking Boots, Shoes for the . House and for Pull Dress Toilets-Riding Boots, Driving Boots and Redroom

The Euglish women have ever enjoyed the reputation of wearing practical, common sense boots and shoes. Of late years our own women have to some extent followed the example of their English cousins in the matter of boots for the promenade. This improvement has been brought about in part by the present tad for everything that is English, and in part by the condition of the American. women's test. With a view to encouraging common sense in the matter of feorwear we give a few items concerning the boots and show made this season for English women. Walking boots made to order for the young Princeses of Wales and designed for rough country wear are high, buttoning up almost to the knee, of black leather, with an inner loning of waterproof tweed between the leather and kid lining. The soles are about half an inch thick.

PHYSIOLOGY AND HYGIENE.

The importance of a full set of sound teeth to the general health is becoming more ap-preciated among all intelligent persons, and the reasonableness of present views on the subject of the care and preservation of the teeth is very clearly expressed as follows by correspondent of Science News, who regards them especially in their aspect of conervators of nerve force: All force must be sustained and fed, and we find that force for pervous exertion can only be sustained by food. The work of the mind is nervous action, and is produced by exertion or waste force. Every thought is nervous exertion; grief is nervous exertion; joy is nervous exertion; low spirits are nervous exertion. Whenever despondency appears, or so called nervous disorder, it is nothing olse but the result of want of nourishment. A noted physician asserts "that noryous diseases are the consequence of continued waste of nervous action and incomplete mutrition, and require nothing but udicions dietetic treatment. All nervous disaffected by diet. Healthy and judicious food molds the character and nourishes the brain. This feeding of the body, this strengthening of the mind, is largely due to a complete and perfect "denture," a good set of teeth, the value of which may not be computed if the work of dividing and mastleating the food be considered only. But to this consideration is to be added their importance in assisting articulation, in preserving the breath sweet and pure when inhaled into the lungs, in giving proper symmetry to the features. Indeed, the mouth and feeth may well be considered the most important of the facial features. Taste, speech, song, mustication and salivation, also the avenue for air in inhalation and expiration, is the work performed by the mouth; and the liter good health of the teeth has much to do with each of these important processes. If the natural teeth become unpuited or destroyed, the dentist is called upon to magically supply the loss or to repair the waste. Owing to the vast importance to the health of the patient, to his personal comfort and to his personal appearance, more and more and practice of this branch of the healing art. The general tendency of the profession to aid nature to repair the waste and preserve the vitality of the teeth, and to main tain their usefulness.

A HERMIT FISHERMAN.

Ue Lived on 88 a Year and Has Accumu lated a Goodly Portune.

"Zeb, the hermit disherman," lives in a fifthy hovel down near the ocean in the town of Stonington. He wears the old time fisherman costume of blue overalls, was disappointed in love, and took to fishing in solitude for a livelihood. He next courted the Bible, and can repeat it from Genesis through to Revelations he invested in a dory, he has amassed a 4 fortune estimated at $50,000. For five years he lived in a shanty, expending but $8 a year for food - His clothes he were $3 a year for food - His clothes he wore to shreds, and his fuel he picked up on the beach. After this job had been completed Zeb began the creetion of his first tenement house. With a pickax, a spade and a wheelbarrow he excavated for the cellar, using the dut to flll in the hole back of the seawall. He walled up the cellar with stone and then secured carpenters The painting and papering he did himself.

Temyson's Little Joke.

On one occasion it came to Mr. Temyson's knowledge that two men were inding behind trees on either side of the drive, paramably to have a look at him when he went out for his usual walk.

Lord Temyson, at once seeing a chance of some fun, called in his gardener, and and made him put on his velvel cost and wide brake hit. Then the old man sallied forth and made his why to the drive, lown which he walked as though in deep neediation. He had not gone very fin when he heard a man's voice coming from behind, with a strong Yanken twang, fay: "Now I've seen Lord Temyson; I guess I'll go home to vinurika"—London Star.
